Invasive Species Cause $120 Billion Annually in Environmental Damage Chef Philippe Parola says if you CAN'T BEAT 'EM, EAT 'EM! Saving the Ecosystem One Bite At A Time!

Chef Philippe Parola invites you to join him on his mission in fighting the fight to preserve our ecosystem against the imminent threat of invasive species. His solution to this problem is very transparent:

CAN'T BEAT 'EM, EAT 'EM!

Together, we can make a difference by cooking and eating invasive species

ONE BITE AT A TIME!

We can diminish invasive species populations and minimize their threat to the ecosystem, so they can coexist in harmony with native species. In joining me on this quest, we will boost local economies and create new jobs by promoting the commercial harvest of invasive species!

This one-of-a-kind book features 40 invasive species in the United States. With each species, not only have provided photos for you to identify them and information about them, but I have also crafted a gourmet-minded recipe for each one. I encourage you to use these recipes and cooking instructions which you can easily adapt to your regional flair and preferred taste.

Join Chef Philippe in the fight to save our ecosystem for future generations!
